One night a friend gave me a ride home after Cub Scouts. I got out of the car and went inside, but no one was there. I checked all the rooms and couldn't find anyone, so I decided to say a prayer. The Holy Ghost told me to go to our neighbors' house, and I found my family. I feel so grateful that I have the Holy Ghost to help me when I'm scared.

I was riding the school bus, and some of my friends were talking about inappropriate things. I asked them to please stop talking about those things. My friends promised they wouldn't talk about those things around me anymore. I was grateful that I had the courage to ask them to stop.

We were coming from the store, and when we got in the car it would not start. We popped the hood and checked the engine, and nothing happened. I felt that I should pray, so I did. A few minutes later the car turned on. I'm so glad that Heavenly Father can always help me.
